

College of Arts, Humanities,
and Social Sciences | NSU
NOVA SOUTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY | Florida
DEPARTMENT OF CONFLICT RESOLUTION STUDIES

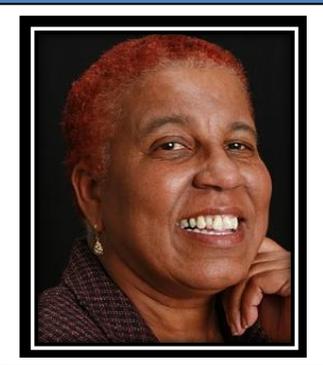

MEET YOUR PEER MENTORS

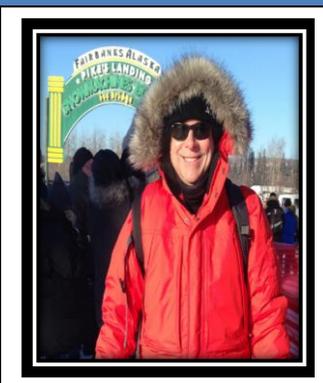

SUMMER 2019-SUMMER 2020

Jasmine Phan McCrady is a doctoral student in DCRS. She possesses a bachelor's in criminal justice with a minor in Political Science and a master's in legal studies. She has worked in the financial and public sector specializing in domestic violence. She is of Vietnamese descent. She has desire to serve as a mentor for another year. Her area of interest is community conflict. Jasmine can be contacted at jp2595@mynsu.nova.edu.

Mrs. Ann Diaz, is a Ph.D. candidate in the Department of Conflict Resolution Studies at Nova Southeastern University, Florida. She attained an MSW, and a BSc with the University of the West Indies in Trinidad and Tobago. She is the Coordinator of the Mediation Unit at the University of the West Indies (UWI). She is also a Certified mediator, facilitator and trainer, and has conducted mediation training geared toward certification. Ann is a part of the mentoring program at the University of the West Indies where she mentors' students from the Mediation Post Graduate Diploma and Master in Mediation. Ann can be reached at ad1900@mynsu.nova.edu.

Peter Kent is a second year Ph.D. student at DCRS. Mentoring comes easy and is a welcome activity for Peter. He has mentored through the Big Brothers and Big Sisters program in Los Angeles, CA. He is also a student advisor at the NOVA, Alexandria (campus), a Jr. College in northern Virginia. Peter has a BA in Communication Studies, with an emphasis in Public Affairs, and an MA in Organizational Communication with an emphasis on Technology, both from California State University, Los Angeles (CSULA). He has been a Project Management Consultant in the IT field for over 15 years. Peter can be reached at pkent@mynsu.nova.edu.

Basil Ugorji is a Ph.D. Candidate with the Department of Conflict Resolution Studies. He achieved a Master of Arts in Philosophy from the Université de Poitiers in France. Basil is the President and CEO of International Center for Ethno-Religious Mediation (ICERM) in Mount Vernon, New York. The ICERM works closely with the United Nations Economic and Social Council where Basil is a designated representative. Basil also host several International Conferences on Ethnic and Religious Conflict Resolutions and Peacebuilding. Basil can be reached at bu27@mysu.nova.edu.