B.A. in English

Literature immerses you into worlds created by great imaginations. Studying the written word, and the techniques and theories behind it, will sharpen your abilities in analysis and writing. Earning a bachelor's degree in English at Nova Southeastern University (NSU) gives you the skills to read and write about complex ideas and theories.

What You'll Study

British, American, and world literatures provide a strong foundation for the English major. Choose to explore Shakespeare, the Beat writers, contemporary memoir, or science fiction. Read closely through the lenses of popular culture, literary criticism, and theory. Discuss how magic happens on the page when a writer effectively expresses insight, technique, and creativity.

How You'll Learn More

Refine your papers through the learning process of drafting, writing, and revising. Great professors inspire you, even as the great authors of the world become your teachers too. Meet current authors at campus events. Write or edit for NSU's student literary arts magazine or newspaper, or start your own poetry slam on campus.

Unique Opportunities

- Digressions Literary Magazine: annual publication involves student editors, writers, and artists
- Sigma Tau Delta: join the national English honor society based on your academic achievement
- student symposium and film festival: present your research, analysis, or creative work; awards presented
- Model United Nations: learn about international politics in this team activity, which may lead to national competitions
- distinguished speakers series: attend discussions by renowned authors, scientists, political figures, and artists
