B.A. in Music

Prepare to meet the high expectations in the very competitive music industry. As a music major, you'll move center stage with confidence in music fundamentals and the understanding of artistic and cultural forces. Become a refined performer, producer, or composer of music the world is waiting to hear.

What You'll Study

The studio awaits you, as the bachelor of music program blends tradition and technology. Core courses explore music theory, the history of music, and performance ensembles. Choose your concentration in commercial and popular music or in vocal, piano, or instrumental performance.

How You'll Learn More

Take advantage of incredible rehearsal and performance spaces and our extremely low student-faculty ratio. Improve your performance skills in Nova Southeastern University's ensembles, bands, and choirs that sing and play regularly for the local community in a variety of musical styles. As an intern, you can connect with working musicians, vocalists, composers, and conductors in the vibrant South Florida cultural scene.

Unique Opportunities

- performances, ensembles: explore your musical, theatrical, and dance talents in these groups and productions
- home for the arts: on-campus orchestra, choral, music rooms; keyboard lab; theatres; scene and costume shop
- grant: apply for the talent-based grant for qualifying performing arts students
- internships: gain hands-on experience with local performance groups, arts organizations, galleries, or museums
- visiting professionals: attend on-campus performances by professional vocalists and musicians
